Single Pitch Award Training

The Single Pitch Award is aimed at those who wish to supervise a group on single pitch crags and climbing walls and is the key qualification needed by those wanting to pass on their climbing enthusiasm or and wanting to forge a career in “land-based” outdoor activity instruction.

Throughout the training course you will learn about safe group management and how to become an effective supervisor, choice of venue, crag etiquette and access and conservation. This is in addition to covering the skills of rope management, the correct use of equipment and emergency procedures.

- Be an active climber with experience of lead climbing
- Have lead at least 15 graded routes outdoors (using leader placed protection)
- 18 years old or over
- Have registered for SPA training through the Mountain Leader Training England
